Dear David,

Re: Rendition

I wrote to you on 24 July 2008 about rendition. I raised specific and important concerns about the adequacy of the action taken by the UK Government in sending a list of flights sent to the US for specific assurances that they were not used for rendition, and the adequacy of the renewed assurances provided by the US on this issue.

Six months have now passed, and I have still not received a reply. I would be grateful for a reply.

I am putting this letter in the public domain.

Yours,
Andrew
