Dear Robert,

I recently wrote to Dame Deirdre Hutton, chairman of the Civil Aviation Authority, to request Diego Garcia flight records. She informed me that the requested data has been forwarded to the Department for Transport.

In the context of investigations, I would be grateful for the following information from:

all records held by you, from 1 September 2001 to 31 December 2008, of any aircraft landing in the British Indian Ocean Territory (ICAO Code: FJDG), including for each aircraft: the callsign, registration, type of plane, the departure and destinations airports (ADEP and ADES), the date and time of arrival and take-off (ATA and ATOT), the operating company code and name, the date and time of entry into the route charges system, and any other information held.

I would be grateful for your help in obtaining the requested records. I will put this letter in the public domain.

Yours
Andrew
